THE SECRET TO FINDING HIGHLY-PROFITABLE PRODUCTS THAT SELL LIKE CRAZY

Thanks for joining the training webinar, where I shared a lot of priceless secrets to building a successful drop shipping business from the ground up.

If you're like a lot of people, you might still feel some hesitation about moving forward. This is normal, especially if you've never started a business before.

Drop Ship Lifestyle members can get help with verifying their niche from experienced drop shipping business owners.

I'll share how you can get in on niche verification in a little bit.

HOW TO USE THIS GUIDE

This free guide is designed to help jumpstart the creative process. Keep in mind that these are product ideas. You still need to do the research.

BRAINSTORMING IDEAS

During the brainstorming stage, you don't need to overthink things. This is the time for gathering data.

The list of 500 niche ideas that follows can help you get the ideas flowing. Refer back to it if you ever feel stuck. Come up with your own master list from this guide by...

1. NICHING DOWN.

Choose a category and find a specific line of products.

For example, from Hydrotherapy Equipment, you could niche down to Hydromassage Tables.

2. NICHING UP.

This is the opposite of niching down. A niche could be too narrow, lacking in product demand.

For instance, if you want to sell Ceramic Kilns but you find out there's not much demand. You may niche up to a broader category, like pottery equipment. This would also include pottery wheels, brushes, etc.

Finding the right niche can make or break your business, so take your time. Think of it as mining for diamonds. You might have to dig out a lot of ordinary rocks before you find the precious gem.

VERIFYING YOUR NICHE

Choose 3 to 5 ideas from your master list. Run these through the proven tests that I explained in the webinar.

If none of them pass all four tests, pick 3 to 5 more and run them through the tests. If none of these pass, select 3 to 5 more and... well, you get the idea.

Be sure to hang on to your master list, and keep adding to it as new ideas come to you.

Here's a quick recap of the crucial tests...

PRICE POINT TEST

Start by searching for your niche idea in Google. Click on the "Shopping" tab to see what items are sold and by whom.

Look at the prices on the first page of results. Ignore the ads at the top of the page. Look at the organic search results only.

The product passes the Price Point Test if at least half of the items listed sell for $200 or more.

COMPETITION TEST

Notice that at the bottom of some of the results you'll see the links in blue letters that say "Compare prices from 2 stores," "Compare prices from 5+ stores" and such.

You're looking for niche ideas where fewer than half of the results say, "Compare prices from 10+ stores." If the majority of the results are sold by more than 10 vendors, the market is probably saturated and isn't a profitable idea.

EVERGREEN TEST

Perform a search in Google Trends. Enter your niche idea, then set the location dropdown list to "United States," if your business is based in the US. If you're planning to run your business in another country such as the UK or Canada, of course set the location to your country.

Change the dropdown list for the timeframe to "5 years."

You want to see an overall sideways trend. It will have some ups and downs, and that's okay as long as there aren't extremes. If you see high peaks and deep valleys, chances are the demand is seasonal and it's not a profitable niche.

SIDEWAYS TREND

SOUNDANCE Laptop Stand,
Aluminum Computer Riser

$19.⁴⁸

VS

SEASONAL TRENDS

Luxury Red and Gold Christmas Ball

$75.⁸³

VS

EVERGREEN TREND

Chrome Finish 4-Light Round Chandelier

$220.¹⁵

BRAND LOYALTY TEST

I explained in the webinar that your niche needs to compete on the product level. In other words, the customer only cares about the quality of the item itself. It doesn't matter if it's a brand name or not.

With items like shoes, clothing, and consumer electronics, the brand name matters. That's why they don't make good drop shipping niches.

THE JOURNEY HAS JUST BEGUN

Finding a suitable niche is crucial, but it's only the first step.

As I explained in the webinar, there are other important steps, and if you want to succeed, you have to nail it on all of them...

- BUILD A PROFESSIONAL WEBSITE.

Before you can approach suppliers, you need to show them that you will be a worthy representative of their products. Your high-caliber website will show them you mean business. Drop Ship Blueprint will give you an over-the-shoulder view of DSL's Design Chief, Laura Kraly as she walks you through the whole process.

- GET SUPPLIERS.

As I explained in the webinar, the best suppliers are choosy about who they work with. In the Blueprint, you'll get email templates and phone scripts that will help you land Gold-Tier suppliers.

- GET BUYER TRAFFIC.

It's not enough to get traffic to your website. Ecommerce success hinges on buyer traffic. The Blueprint will show you how to optimize your website to turn visitors into buyers. You'll also learn how to build your sales funnel, and re-engage visitors who leave your site without making a purchase.

- AUTOMATE.

So you can have the freedom you deserve.

If all this seems overwhelming, it's okay, because I have a solution for you.

Drop Ship Blueprint will walk you through all the steps you need to build and run your highly-profitable, semi-automated drop shipping business.
